

Save the Date for ADPCA 2020

We are excited to announce that the annual meeting of the ADPCA will be held at the University of Illinois at Chicago (UIC) from 7pm on Wednesday July 15th through noon on Sunday July 19th. Dorm and meeting rooms are all located in the UIC Student Center East, 700 South Halsted Street, Chicago, Illinois 60607. Chicago Counseling Associates will sponsor continuing education credits for psychologists, social workers, and counselors.

As in the past, we hope to assist as many people as possible for whom conference costs are a barrier. We hope to maintain and vivify the multi-national collaboration that the person-centered approach has long valued. You can assist in this process by registering early, which will help us to plan for scholarships. Registration forms and additional information will be posted on the ADPCA website and sent through the list serves.

We invite all interested persons to submit proposals for presentations. We appreciate your initial thoughts as soon as possible and ask for a working title and proposal by March 31, 2020 so that we can begin compiling the conference program. Whether you wish to offer a formal paper or gather an informal conversation, please send your ideas to ADPCA2020@gmail.com.

Conference costs include:

Registration: $225 / full or $50 / day (Before 6/1)
$275/ full or $60/ day (After 6/1)
$75/ full or $20/ day (Student)

Room: $45 USD per person per night, in a single occupancy dorm room
$36 USD per person per night, in a double occupancy dorm room

Please feel free to send any questions to ADPCA2020@gmail.com

We extend a warm welcome to members, friends, and colleagues, and look forward to seeing everyone in Chicago in July.

All the best,
Ashley Allcorn and the Chicago Conference Committee
