

The Person-Centered Journal (PCJ), is produced as a double-issue once per year and is the oldest continuously running person-centered peer reviewed publication in English.

It features international contributions, including scholarly, practical, and artistic-oriented articles.

For further information, contact the editors Stephen Demanchick and Rachel Jordan at pcj@adpca.org.