Policy Statement
The Person-Centered Journal is sponsored by the Association for the Development of the Person-Centered Approach. The intent of this publication is to promote ideas and thinking about the principles and practice of the person-centered approach and to disseminate scholarly information and thinking concerned with person-centered philosophy.

All materials contained in The Person-Centered Journal are the property of the Association for the Development of The Person-Centered Approach (ADPCA). ADPCA grants reproduction permission to libraries, researchers, and teachers to copy all or part of the materials in this issue for scholarly purposes with the stipulation that no fee for profit be charged to the consumer for the use or possession of such copies.

Editorial Policy is that of an open review. Reviewing comments are sent to the authors with the names of reviewers.

TYPING AND OTHER REQUIREMENTS

1. The original copy of the manuscript should be typed or computer printed on 8.5" x 11" translucent white bond.

2. The manuscript should be prepared in APA style. Refer to the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association, Fourth Edition. (Ordering information can be obtained from APA, 750 First Street, NE, Washington, DC 20002-4242.)

4. Double-space everything, including references, quotations, tables, and figures. Leave generous margins (at least an inch all around) on each page.

5. Avoid footnotes whenever possible (see APA Publication Manual for alternatives).

6. Use tables sparingly and type them on separate pages. Include only essential data and combine tables whenever possible. Refer to the APA Publication Manual for style of tabular presentations. Figures (graphs, illustrations, line drawings) should be supplied as camera-ready art (glossies prepared by a commercial artist) whenever possible. Figure captions should be on an attached page, as required by APA style.

7. Lengthy quotations (generally 300 cumulative words or more from one source) require written permission from the copyright holder for reproduction. Adaptation of tables and figures also requires reproduction approval from the copyright source. It is the author's responsibility to secure such permission, and a copy of the publisher's written permission must be provided to the Editor immediately upon acceptance of the article for publication.

8. Place authors' names, positions, titles, places of employment, and mailing addresses on the cover page to facilitate distribution.

9. Avoid the use of generic masculine pronouns or other sexist terminology. Also use terms such as client, student, or participant rather than subject. When referring to people with disabilities and describing their experiences, be careful not to use language that stereotypes or diminishes them.

10. Never submit material that is under consideration by another periodical.

11. Submit an original and three copies of the manuscript to Jo Cohen, Department of Counseling, Kutztown University, Kutztown, PA 19530. Authors should keep a copy of their manuscripts to guard against loss.

12. It is expected that most manuscripts submitted for publication in The Person-Centered Journal will undergo revision before final acceptance.

13. Because of the production process of The Person-Centered Journal, authors whose manuscripts have been accepted for publication are expected to provide both a hard copy and a diskette copy of the manuscript (final version), prior to the editors sending it on to press. Most popular IBM or Macintosh software formats are acceptable on either 5.25" or 3.5" diskettes. Please check with editor regarding acceptability of word processor format. The submitting author's name and the hardware and software used in preparing the diskette must be clearly labeled on the diskette.

Note: Authors bear full responsibility for the accuracy of references, quotations, tables, and figures.
Membership in the Association for the Development of the Person-Centered Approach

ADPCA is an international network of persons who support the development and application of the person-centered approach. ADPCA is an association that seeks to further a pioneering spirit and vision of what person can become.
